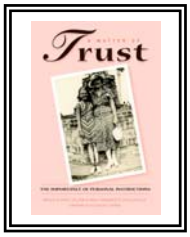
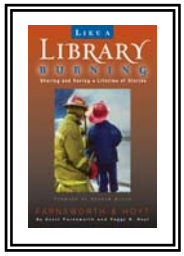
All My Children Wear Fur Coats
How to Leave a Legacy for Your Pet
2nd Edition
Peggy R. Hoyt, J.D., M.B.A.
www.LegacyForYourPet.com

How to leave a legacy for your pet. Animal companions… your pets… "your children." Whatever you call them, they are dearly loved family members. Our pets come to us from rescue shelters, from pet stores, from breeders, and from friends and family. Our pets come in all shapes and sizes — from horses to hamsters, from ferrets to felines — they inhabit our hearts with their own unique personalities. They share day-to-day struggles, adventures, special moments and play times with us. We share our homes, our beds and our hearts with our pets. We worry about our pets, too, just like our children, when they are not with us. They leave us with a legacy of happy memories after they're gone. Our pets love us unconditionally, help reduce stress and even enhance longevity. For all these reasons and so many more, you should explore all the alternatives for planning for your pet's future without you and for your future without your pet. This book is for anyone who has ever loved a pet and wondered what he or she would do if their pet were no longer with them or what their pet would do if they were no longer there.



A Matter of Trust
The Importance of Personal Instructions
Peggy R Hoyt, J.D., M.B.A. & Candace M. Pollock, J.D.
www.AMatterOfTrust.info

A Matter of Trust is a book for everyone—everyone, that is, who cares about what happens to them in the event of disability and to their legacy at the time of their death. Maggie Kinnick was a widow of comfortable means who created a revocable living trust on the advice of her trusted advisors after the death of her only child, Pat. Her trust was created to provide Maggie with financial caretakers when she could no longer handle her own affairs, and to distribute her legacy at death. Instead of protecting Maggie, the trust, and the way it was managed by her trustees, created a nightmare for her—one that continued even after her death. A Matter of Trust is the definitive guide to creating legal directives to avoid Maggie's dilemma. It identifies the types of legal directives most people require and where and how to create personal instructions to properly guide caregivers about when and how discretion should be exercised.



Like a Library Burning
Sharing and Saving a Lifetime of Stories
Scott Farnsworth & Peggy R. Hoyt J.D., M.B.A.
www.LikeALibraryBurning.com

If a story is worth sharing, we believe it is certainly worth saving. If shared stories are the threads in the ties that connect us person to person, then saved stories are the links in the chains that bind families over generations and entire cultures over centuries. If sharing our stories matters deeply—and we believe strongly that it does—then saving those stories matters just as much.

Loving Without a License

An Estate Planning Survival Guide for Unmarried Couples and Same Sex Partners

Peggy R Hoyt, J.D., M.B.A. & Candace M. Pollock, J.D.
www.LovingWithoutALicense.com

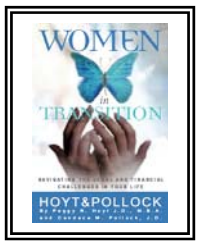
Loving Without a License - An Estate Planning Survival Guide for Unmarried Couples and Same Sex Partners explores the unique estate planning challenges of unmarried couples and same sex partners – life alliance partners. In an easy-to-read, easy-to-understand format, discover the estate planning techniques and directives that allow you and your partner to protect yourselves and each other. Traditional estate planning focuses on solutions for married couples or for singles. What about the unique challenges faced by unmarried, yet committed partners? The number of life alliance partners continues to grow, with an ever-increasing demand for laws, protections and services designed specifically to address their specific estate planning needs. Step-by-step, Loving Without a License, provides guidance, insight and solutions for people genuinely concerned about creating a comprehensive estate plan that does one thing – accomplishes your goals.

Special People, Special Planning

Creating A Safe Legal Haven For Families With Special Needs

Peggy R Hoyt, J.D., M.B.A. & Candace M. Pollock, J.D.
www.SpecialPeopleSpecialPlanning.com

Special People, Special Planning is about creating a financial and legal blueprint to address the special person's unique personal and social needs. Families of people with special needs face planning challenges that accompany longer life expectancies - a future without full independence - and the need to maintain an outstanding quality of life. In this book, authors and estate planning attorneys Peggy Hoyt and Candace Pollock give your family an overview of the three main federal disability programs and teach you how to create a customized, comprehensive plan for your special person.



Women in Transition

Navigating the Legal and Financial Challenges in Your Life

Peggy R Hoyt, J.D., M.B.A. and Candace M. Pollock, J.D
www.WomenInTransitionToday.com

Women in Transition is written for you – for every woman as she moves from one phase of her life to another – whether she is living with parents, on her own, in a committed relationship, experiencing widowhood or divorce. Each transition presents potential areas of vulnerability with personal, legal and financial lessons, opportunities and challenges. Women take the experience and resources at each phase as the foundation for the next phase. This foundation is either shaky or solid and contributes or undermines her success, security, and independence thereafter. This book will teach you how to build your own solid foundation to protect yourself and the people and things you cherish.

Gratitude Expressions

A Five Year Journal

Deborah E. Roser and Peggy R Hoyt, J.D., M.B.A.
www.ThankEverybodyForEverything.com

As a companion to Thank Everybody for Everything! the authors created Gratitude Expressions, a unique journal for recording, tracking and re-visiting one's daily gratitude expressions over a five-year period. Every day when you write your gratitude expressions, you can look back on the same page and relive the blessings you experienced on the same day in the years prior. Each page also contains an inspirational quote as a gentle reminder of the value of gratitude and appreciation.
